

BREXIT FAQs FOR EU STUDENTS

By 31 October 2019, the UK is due to leave the European Union. Brexit will likely lead to changes to the system for EEA and Swiss students coming to the UK to study. (In this document EEA students means any students from Norway, Iceland or Lichtenstein)

The situation will be different depending on whether the UK leaves the EU with a deal or not. These FAQs contain all the information universities have so far about what will happen if the UK leaves the EU with the current withdrawal agreement, or with no deal at all. Both the UK and the EU are working very hard to ensure that a no-deal scenario is avoided.

Depending on future discussions between the EU and UK, it is also possible that the UK may leave the EU with a different deal, or that the UK's departure from the EU may be delayed beyond October.

FEES FOR EU STUDENTS

WHAT'S THE SITUATION AT THE MOMENT?

Most EU nationals have the same fees as home students throughout their degree. Fee levels vary in different parts of the UK. EU nationals are usually eligible for financial support. In Scotland, undergraduates do not usually pay any fees.

WHAT'S GOING TO CHANGE WITH BREXIT?

WITHDRAWAL AGREEMENT: UK governments have confirmed that EU students who begin their degrees in or before the academic years 2019-20 or 2020-21 will still be eligible for home student fees and financial support and that nothing will change for them throughout their full degree.

NO DEAL: This will be the case in England and Scotland whether or not the UK leaves the EU with a deal.

WILL I HAVE TO APPLY FOR A VISA?

WITHDRAWAL AGREEMENT: You will not need a visa if you are arriving before 1 January 2021, but you should apply for 'settled' or 'pre-settled' status if you would like to stay in the UK beyond January 2021: gov.uk/settled-status-eu-citizens-families

NO DEAL: If you are arriving in the UK between the official Brexit date and 31 December 2021, you should apply for European Temporary Leave to Remain, which will allow you to remain in the UK for three years.

If you will arrive in the UK from 2021 onwards, you should apply for a student visa. UK universities offer lots of help to guide their students through the application process.

WILL MY UK DEGREE STILL BE RECOGNISED IN THE EU?

UK degrees are recognised in many countries around the world, and there are a number of agreements between different countries that support this. Some of these are not related to the European Union which means that after the UK leaves the EU, most academic qualifications will still be recognised.

Recognition of some professional qualifications is more complicated, but UK universities are hoping that the mutual recognition of professional qualifications will continue. You can find out if your chosen subject is academic or professional by speaking to your university.

WILL I BE ABLE TO STAY IN THE UK AFTER GRADUATING?

WITHDRAWAL AGREEMENT: Any student arriving in the UK before January 2021 will be able to apply for 'pre-settled status'. This will allow you to stay in the UK for five years and then apply for 'settled status'. Once you have settled status, you'll be able to remain in the UK indefinitely. If you have already been in the country for five years you can apply for settled status straight away.

Once you are in the UK, you can apply for pre-settled status or settled status for free here:

NO DEAL: If you arrive in the UK any time after Brexit date and have applied for European Temporary Leave to Remain, you will need to apply for a visa after three years when your Leave to Remain expires.

CAN I STILL COME TO THE UK WITH ERASMUS+?

WITHDRAWAL AGREEMENT: You will still be able to study in the UK through the Erasmus+ scheme up to and throughout 2020/21, when the current scheme ends. The UK government has committed to negotiating access to the Erasmus+ successor programme.

NO DEAL: If no deal is finalised, the EU Commission has said it will seek to continue funding Erasmus+ students who are in the UK at the point of Brexit.

While we wait for clarification beyond this, UK universities are working with their partner universities across the EU to make sure that student exchange can still take place regardless of the Brexit outcome.

CAN I STILL APPLY FOR RESEARCH COUNCIL FUNDING FOR MY PHD?

Yes, currently EU students remain eligible to apply for UKRI-funded PhD scholarships starting in the academic year 2019/20 and UK universities are seeking confirmation that this will be the case under any Brexit scenario.
